

CALL FOR EXPRESSION OF INTEREST

Airing Documentaries On the Negative Impact Of Forced Migration in Women & Girls in Nigeria.

Introduction

The CLEEN Foundation (formerly known as Centre for Law Enforcement Education) is a non-governmental organization established in January 1998 with the mission of promoting public safety, security, and accessible justice through the strategies of empirical research, legislative advocacy, demonstration programs and publications, in partnership with government and civil society.

Background:

The CLEEN Foundation is implementing a project focused on: “Preventing forced migration and trafficking of women and girls in Nigeria: Build resilience, promote sustainable development.” The primary objective is to enable a gender-sensitive policy environment that addresses forced migration and trafficking and increase gender-sensitive information and awareness-raising in source migration trafficking sites. The project also seeks to support and strengthen the gender-responsiveness of interventions by the National Agency for the Prohibition of Trafficking in Persons (NAPTIP) and other relevant government agencies. The intervention has undertaken a gender audit exercise on protection services within existing trafficking shelters and safe homes and other front-line services and providers. The outcome of the Gender Audit has led to development of reports on the findings of the gender audit conducted in Edo and Lagos state which has to be produced and disseminated to the public.
